

Classroom Activities

Teacher Activity 1

- 1 Share a bullying story from your childhood with the children/students in your care and explain how it made you feel then and now.
- 2 Ask students to share their own bullying story. (When in a group, have students substitute fictional names for real ones.) Acknowledge that students might feel embarrassed or afraid to recount their experience in front of others.
- 3 Discuss how the stories made them feel—to tell and to hear.
- 4 Tell students/your child that bullying should not happen. Brainstorm suggestions for things students/your child can do to stop or prevent bullying, using the stories they told as examples. You may want to write down their responses. Later, return to this exercise to see how their responses may have changed.
- 5 Invite students/your child to write a story about a bullying experience. Encourage young children to draw pictures. These may be the preferred options for children who are uncomfortable sharing their experiences aloud.

Classroom Activities

Teacher Activity 2

1

Print off Interpersonal Violence Scenarios: Dating Violence, Sexual Harassment, Bullying.

2

Use your phone and time (two minutes)

3

Have students write down as many of the D's (Direct, Distract, Delegate, Delay) as they could use in each scenario.

4

Example: I would accidentally drop my books and create a distraction if I saw a couple fighting.

5

Tally up the responses after each scenario (Have several rounds) Give a small prize to the winner.